The quarter started off with the shock of the Trump administration’s “Liberation Day” announcement of tariffs on the trading partners of the US. However, markets were treated to a first-hand experience of Trump’s escalate to de-escalate negotiation strategy as he eventually postponed most tariffs announced and started negotiations with individual countries.

This resulted in a very strong relief rally in most risk assets over the second quarter of 2025. In US dollar, global equities were up 11.5% (with the US, Emerging Markets, Japan and Europe all around this level). There were differences during the quarter though. The brief rally value strategies had, was unwound – the global value equity index was up 5.8% and the global growth equity index up 17.3% (with the Nasdaq doing slightly better than this). The laggards were China and the UK – both up around 2%.

A significant contributor to all of this was the weak US dollar. The US dollar has had the worst first half of a year since 1973 – down 11%. With all the noise, global bond yields and spreads largely drifted sideways. The Bloomberg Global Aggregate Index delivered 4.5% in US dollar.

With a bit of volatility in between because of Liberation Day, the rand ended the quarter by only 3% stronger against the US dollar. With this backdrop, South African bonds delivered a respectable 5.9% over the quarter versus a 1.9% return on South African cash (both in rand). In rand, South African equity delivered 9.7% led by the Naspers/Prosus complex and the precious metals miners. South African equities were slightly outdone in the quarter by the return on SA property – up 11% in rand.

The fund’s holdings in Harmony Gold, Platinum Group Miners and Sasol contributed positively to returns driven by a surge in precious metals prices and a spike in oil. Spar and Woolworths Holdings detracted as these turnarounds continued to prove challenging. We expect our holdings in retail clothing to unlock returns provided consumer sentiment recovers from a low base. The construction sector order books remain strong, and we expect the lack of capacity in the sector to positively impact margins over the next five years, as long neglected infrastructure spend in South Africa is resuscitated. Loadshedding is expected to remain under control and there should be positive base effects on margins across several industries. In the short-term consumer and business confidence could be hampered by caution over GNU stability, though the passing of the budget has eased fears of an imminent coalition fracture.

The growth outlook for South Africa will be tied to our key trading partners namely China and Europe and is at risk given the escalating trade war led by the US. Progress on reasonable trade deals between the US and these major economies will be taken as positive for South Africa. Given increasing risk to the global growth outlook, the key lever South Africa can pull to spark growth is to combat local infrastructure constraints in power and rail. Without delivery in these areas, South Africa will struggle to deliver growth above recent trends. The continued trend of suspended loadshedding is a big positive. Nearly a year into the GNU government there is a handful of green shoots to inspire confidence. However, tangible delivery on infrastructure spend and SOE profitability are needed to reignite business confidence. Further interest rate cuts look less likely given the global uncertainty and the South Africa Reserve Bank’s revised inflation target proposal, increasing the pressure on the GNU to deliver counter-cyclical economic growth through reforms.

TER is a historic measure of the impact the deduction of management and operating costs has on a fund’s value. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER, which includes the annual service fee, may not necessarily be an accurate indication of future TERs. Transaction Cost (TC) is a necessary cost in administering the fund and impacts fund returns. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of fund, the investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER.

DISCLOSURES

We aim to treat our clients fairly by giving you the information you need in as simple a way as possible, to enable you to make informed decisions about your investments.

- We believe in the value of sound advice and so recommend that you consult a financial planner before buying or selling unit trusts. You may, however, buy and sell without the help of a financial planner. If you do use a planner, we remind you that they are entitled to certain negotiable planner fees or commissions.
- Investments in unit trusts should ideally be a medium- to long-term strategy that takes cognisance of the Recommended Investment Term of each individual fund as stipulated in its Minimum Disclosure Document. A fund's or an investment strategy's ability to provide benchmark performance, or to achieve its performance target over its Recommended Investment Term on a net of fee basis may be impacted by market illiquidity, differences in fund and market pricing points, concentration risk and other local (and where applicable global) events, such as market- and political developments, macro-economic factors and healthcare risks such as Covid-19, amongst others. Your fund value may therefore go up or down and the investment capital or return on your investment is not guaranteed. How a fund has performed in the past does not necessarily indicate how it will perform in the future.
- The fund fees and costs that we charge for managing your investment are disclosed in this Minimum Disclosure Document (MDD) and in the table of fees and charges, both of which are available on our public website or from our contact centre.
- Additional information of the proposed investment, including brochures, application forms and annual or quarterly reports, can be obtained, free of charge, from Old Mutual Unit Trust Managers (RF) (Pty) Ltd, from our public website at www.oldmutualinvest.com or our contact centre on 0860 234 234.
- Our cut-off time for client instructions (e.g. buying and selling) is at 15:00 each working day for all our funds, except for our money market funds, where the cut-off is at 12:30.
- The valuation time is set at 15:00 each working day for all our funds, excluding our money market funds which is at 13:00, to determine the daily ruling price (other than at month-end when we value the Old Mutual Index Funds and Multi-Managed Fund of Funds range at 17:00 close). Daily prices are available on the public website and in the media.
- Unit trusts are traded at ruling prices, may borrow to fund client disinvestments and may engage in scrip lending. The daily ruling price is based on the current market value of the fund's assets plus income minus expenses (NAV of the portfolio) divided by the number of units on issue.
- Excessive daily withdrawals from the fund may place the fund under liquidity pressures. In such circumstances a process of ring-fencing of withdrawal instructions and/or managed payouts over time may be followed.
- Specialist equity funds may hold a greater risk as exposure limits to a single security may be higher.
- The Net Asset Value to Net Asset Value figures are used for the performance calculations. The performance quoted is for a lump sum investment. The performance calculation includes income distributions prior to the deduction of taxes and distributions are reinvested on the ex-dividend date. Performances may differ as a result of actual initial fees, the actual investment date, the date of reinvestment and dividend withholding tax. Annualised returns are the weighted average compound growth rates over the performance period measured. Performances are in ZAR and as at 30 June 2025. Source: Morningstar.
